Dear Sir,

On behalf of the LNJ Group of Schools, I would like to express my appreciation to Bharat Soka Gakkai for organising the online exhibition titled Seeds of Hope and Action: Making the SDGs a Reality on February 22nd for VKV Hurda and April 22nd for the other 3 schools.

The exhibition has been very successful and marks the beginning of the relationship between BSG and all the 4 schools.

Associating with BSG for this initiative has been a great way to engage and sensitize the students of our schools towards the importance of SDGs.

The explanation of the panels by our students, the screening of the film "A Quiet Revolution" and the 'interaction session', have contributed to a great learning experience for us. The students have shown their passion to work for sustainability and have already started taking actions at grassroots level. They are also uploading their actions on the Mapping App.

We are grateful to BSG for introducing this exhibition during the Pandemic. We believe that young minds need to be nurtured with such inspiring thoughts so that we can build a hopeful future.

Thanking you
Yours Truly
Shashi Agrawal
